

Assessing Vaccine Feasibility

Uncovering Opportunity When Developing a Vaccine

CHALLENGE

A pharma client wanted to understand the market need, opportunity, and technical feasibility associated with developing a vaccine. They were looking for a better view of the current landscape for the prevention, treatment, and management of a vaccine to inform requirements to serve clinical adoption and go-to-market considerations.

THE GLG APPROACH

GLG findings were primarily sourced from conducting 16 in-depth 1:1 interviews with physicians and researchers. Experts were interviewed on topics of interest including clinical and nonclinical needs, receptivity to a new mRNA approach, technical requirements, rollout and adoption, and key considerations for a go-to-market strategy.

OUTCOME

This research uncovered the feasibility of developing an mRNA vaccine for select indications and supported the client's internal business case for further developing their investigational research department.
